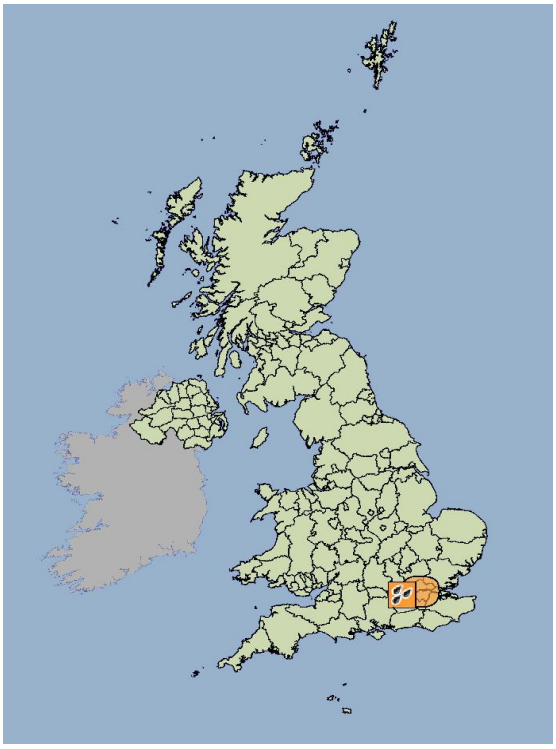
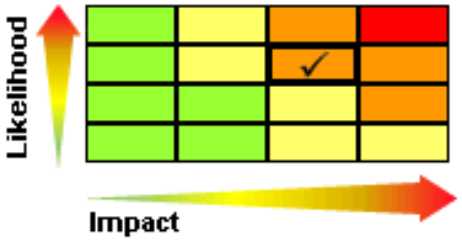
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Another wave of thunderstorms breaking out across southeastern UK this afternoon and evening is likely to bring some thunderstorms into the London area. Whether these storms are as severe as those of last night is, at this stage, uncertain, but in view of storms being expected during the afternoon and evening impacts may be as widespread as those of last night and first thing this morning.

The Met Office have issued an Amber Warning of Rain

Valid from 15:00 on Thu, 23rd Jun 2016 until 23:00 on Thu, 23rd Jun 2016

There is a risk of thunderstorms affecting the London area this afternoon and evening.

Please be aware of possible disruption to travel and localised flooding as well as frequent lightning.
